

KAA June Photography Show

The Photography Show was judged by Doug Bearce, past president of KAA. Doug has won many honors when entering photographs in KAA and other organization's shows. He judged this show last year. Thank you, Doug!

First Place

"Wheels", Janice Christman

The line of metal wheels in this photo moves the eye in several directions. The differing background colors of greens, brown, and the blue sky with some clouds in it give this photo a feeling of great distances.

Second Place

"Blown in the Wind", Karen Aiello

The title is an apt description of this photo. A single leaf blowing with a background of a texture of clouds and blue sky. In this case less is more as the eye goes to the single leaf as it moves across the sky.

Third Place

"Burrowing Owl, Michelle McAdams

Photographing wild animals is difficult at best and getting any animal to pose for your photo takes patience and sometimes luck that is created by the photographer. This photographer has created a photo with an owl in sharp focus with a background that is nicely blurred to keep the eye on the subject. Nicely done.

Juror's Merit Award

"Whidbey Woods", Karen Saleen

The use of black & white in this photo draws the eye to the many textures of the tree. The light and dark area help to draw the eye to the area of interest.

Best of Show

"Leaves, Limbs and Lichen", Karen Aiello
